

Virginia is for coverage.

Now starting at pregnancy.

Pregnant? You may qualify for health coverage right now.

If you're pregnant, you can enroll in a Marketplace plan today.

Having a baby is an exciting time! Virginia's Insurance Marketplace is here to help you find the right plan for you and your baby. The Marketplace lets you shop for, compare, and purchase high-quality health insurance plans with complete coverage.

According to the Peterson-KFF Health System Tracker, the average health costs associated with pregnancy, childbirth, and post-partum care are over $20,000. Marketplace plans help reduce costs and ensure access to essential care from the start.

All plans offered on the Marketplace cover key health services that pregnant individuals need, including doctor visits, ultrasounds, tests, hospital visits and stays, and pediatric care.

Guaranteed benefits for pregnant individuals include:

- Access to in-network OB-GYN doctors
- Certain preventative screenings
- Prenatal care
- Maternity and newborn care
- Maternal mental health care
- Breastfeeding information
- Pediatric services for your child

When can I enroll?

Special Enrollment Period:

Pregnancy and other Qualifying Life Events may qualify you to enroll outside of the annual open enrollment period.

You can enroll any time during your pregnancy and up to 60 days after giving birth.
